The Ohio Association of Private College Admission Counselors believe in the dignity, worth, and potential of all human beings and work to eliminate any type of bias from the college admission and financial aid processes.

We believe in the importance of ethical practices in the admission and financial aid processes by all post-secondary institutions. We endorse the basic philosophy of the National Association of College Admission Counselors (NACAC), their Code of Ethics, and their Statement of Principles of Good Practice.

Be it resolved, therefore, that all Ohio colleges and universities not require candidates for admission and financial aid to indicate the order of their college or university preferences, except under early decision plans.

Be it resolved, therefore, that candidates for admission and financial aid be permitted to choose without financial penalty among offers of admission and financial aid until they have heard from all colleges and universities to which they have applied, or until May 1, whichever is earlier.

Be it resolved, therefore, that all Ohio colleges and universities state clearly in their letter of acceptance to full-time candidates for admission that they subscribe to the NACAC Statement of Students' Rights and Responsibilities, and to the NACAC Statement of Principles of Good Practice.

Approved by the Ohio Association of Private College Admission Counselors (OAPCAC).

Financial Aid

When comparing the tuitions of different colleges and universities, a student may hesitate to apply to an institution of his/her choice for fear of not being able to afford its price. As students consider a college education, they should keep in mind the following points.

WHY THERE IS A DIFFERENCE IN PRICE BETWEEN PUBLIC AND PRIVATE COLLEGES

The cost of providing a higher education is generally the same at independent colleges and universities as at public universities. For example, both types of institutions incur costs associated with building and maintaining classrooms, residence halls, computer facilities, and libraries; paying faculty salaries; and providing career and counseling services. However, private institutions charge a higher price, or tuition, because they are not subsidized by the state.

APPLY TO COLLEGES THAT BEST FIT PERSONAL NEEDS - REGARDLESS OF PRICE

The ability to pay for a college education is likely to be an important factor in selecting a college or university. However, the price of a particular institution should not prevent a student from applying to the school of his/her choice. A student should apply to a college that best suits his/her academic, social and personal needs, regardless of the price, because financial aid can make it more affordable for a student to attend.

A VARIETY OF FINANCIAL AID IS AVAILABLE

College financial aid programs assist families in meeting the costs of education that exist beyond their demonstrated ability to pay. Institutional need-based and non-need-based (scholarship, merit, athletic, leadership awards, etc.) financial aid, combined with any state and federal scholarships, grants, loans and work study programs, comprise a financial aid package and help defray the costs of attending college. The college will try to make every effort to compile a suitable financial aid package for the student and family so that the price of a college education does not become an overriding factor in choosing a desired institution.

COMPLETE THE FAFSA

Ohio's private colleges and universities require prospective students to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). In order to qualify for some state and federal grant and loan programs, students should complete the FAFSA as soon after January 1 as possible. Forms can be obtained by contacting a college financial aid office, or it can be completed on-line at http://www.fafsa.ed.gov. Some colleges and universities also require a supplemental or institutional financial aid form. Students should contact the college financial aid office to learn which financial aid forms are required and the deadlines for submission.

OHIO SUPPLEMENTAL STUDENT LOAN

This loan is available to any credit-worthy student, parent or other individual wishing to assist a student who is attending an eligible Ohio school, or to an Ohio resident attending an eligible out-of-state school. An individual can borrow up to the cost of education, not to exceed $45,000 for undergraduate study. The program offers low interest rates with a choice of fixed or variable rate, in-school deferments, and flexible repayment options. A loan application can be completed at a participating bank. For more information, contact Student Loan Funding at 1-800-930-SSLF (for students), or 1-800-677-SLFC (for counselors).

JUMP START STAFFORD LOAN

The Jump Start Stafford Loan is a federally guaranteed student loan offering eligible students an interest rate reduction of up to 1.5% off the federal rate, immediately when the loan enters repayment. Students attending Ohio schools and Ohio residents attending out-of-state schools are eligible to receive the Jump Start interest rate reductions. These reductions include a 1.25% rate reduction for making on-time monthly payments and an additional .25% interest rate reduction for having loan payments automatically deducted from the borrower's checking account every month. Contact Student Loan Funding at 1-877-477-7537 for more information.

OTTA COLLEGE SAVINGS PROGRAMS

The Ohio Tuition Trust Authority (OTTA) is a state agency created by the Ohio General Assembly in 1989 to promote savings for higher education. The Tuition Trust currently offers the Ohio Prepaid Tuition Program. Starting fall 2000, the Tuition Trust will offer three additional college savings funds, for a total of four college savings options. The four funds are: 1) the current prepaid tuition credit plan; 2) age-based funds with investments weighted more towards equities during a child's younger years and gradually becoming more conservative as the child approaches college age; 3) a balanced fund with investments more equally weighted in both equities and fixed income, and 4) a growth fund with investments primarily in equities. Families can choose to participate in all four funds. Investments may be applied at any accredited college or university. Call 1-800-AFFORD-IT for more information, or visit OTTA's web site at www.ohiocollegesavings.org.

Additionally, beginning January 1, 2000, individuals may deduct on their Ohio income tax returns contributions made to any of the four savings programs. Up to $2,000 per year, per child, may be deducted. Contributions above $2,000 may be carried forward to future years until fully deducted.

OHIO NATIONAL GUARD SCHOLARSHIP

Ohio residents who enlist with the Ohio Army or Air National Guard and meet eligibility criteria may qualify for this program. The scholarship will help pay up to 100% of tuition at an Ohio college or university and is in addition to GI Bill benefits. Contact the Ohio Army National Guard at 1-888-644-8273, or the Ohio Air National Guard at 1-800-708-4068.

ROTC SCHOLARSHIP

These are competitive scholarships offered by the U.S. armed forces. The scholarship amount varies, but can cover full college tuition plus a monthly allowance. Students should apply as soon as possible before December 1 of their senior year. Contact the headquarters of the armed forces for more information: Air Force 1-800-423-USAF; Army 1-800-USA ROTC; Navy 1-800-USA NAVY.

Financial Aid

FEDERAL FINANCIAL AID PROGRAMS

To determine your eligibility for the following federal student aid programs, you must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA); be a U.S. citizen or eligible noncitizen; have a valid Social Security Number; have financial need (except for some loan programs); have a high school diploma or GED; be at least a half-time student; demonstrate satisfactory academic progress; register with the selective service, if required; sign a statement of educational purpose and a certification statement on overpayment and default (both found on the FAFSA). For more information about these federal programs, or to receive a free copy of The Student Guide, a financial aid guidebook published by the U.S. Department of Education, call the Department of Education's toll free student information hotline at 1-800-4 FED-AID.

FEDERAL PELL GRANT

The amount of this need-based award depends on an undergraduate student's Expected Family Contribution (EFC), cost of attendance, and whether the student is attending full or part time. The maximum Pell Grant for the 2000-2001 academic year is $3,300.

FEDERAL SUPPLEMENTAL EDUCATION OPPORTUNITY GRANT

The FSEOG is for undergraduates with exceptional financial need who also receive the Pell Grant. The grant may be up to $4,000 depending on when the student applies and the level of financial need.

FEDERAL WORK STUDY PROGRAM

This program provides jobs for undergraduate and graduate students with financial need. It encourages community service work and work related to a student's course of study. The salary is at least the current federal minimum wage.

FEDERAL PERKINS LOAN

The Perkins Loan is a low-interest (5 percent) loan for undergraduate and graduate students with exceptional financial need. The loan is made with government and institutional funds. The college or university is the lender, and the loan is repaid to the institution. An undergraduate may borrow up to $4,000 a year.

FEDERAL UNSUBSIDIZED/SUBSIDIZED STAFFORD LOAN

To receive a Federal Subsidized Stafford Loan, the student must have financial need. Under this program, the federal government pays the interest on the loan during the time the student is attending school and during the six-month grace period following graduation. Under the Unsubsidized Stafford Loan program, the student is responsible for paying the interest accrued on the loan. The student may pay the interest as it comes due, or defer payment of the interest, which will be capitalized, until graduation. Under the Federal Stafford Loan program, a dependent student may withdraw up to $2,625 for his/her first year of study. Both loans have a variable interest rate not exceed 8.25 percent. Complete a loan application through a participating student loan lending institution; some banks participating in the program can be found throughout this guide. If the college or university participates in the Federal Direct Lending program, a bank loan application is not necessary.

FEDERAL PARENT LOAN FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS (PLUS)

The PLUS loan is a financial aid resource available to all families regardless of their income. The loan is made directly to the parents and permits them to borrow up to the cost of attendance minus any financial aid received. The interest rate is not to exceed 9 percent. Repayment usually begins within 60 days after receipt of the funds. Contact a lending institution for an application.

FEDERAL TAX BREAKS FOR EDUCATION

Contact the Internal Revenue Service at 1-800-TAX-FORM to receive a copy of Publication 970 (February 1998), Tax Benefits for Higher Education, which explains the following benefits and rules in detail.

Tuition and fees paid with tax-free grants, scholarships, and employer education assistance are not eligible for either of the following two tax credits; expenses paid with loans are eligible. The credits are reduced for joint filers with an adjusted gross income (AGI) above $80,000 and for single filers who have an AGI of more than $40,000. The credits are completely phased out when incomes reach $100,000 for married couples and $50,000 for individuals.

HOPE SCHOLARSHIP TAX CREDIT

Parents of dependent students, or independent students, may claim a tax credit equal to 100% of the first $1,000 of tuition and fees (less grants, scholarships, and tax-free tuition benefits) paid and 50% of the second $1,000 paid in tuition and fees. The maximum credit of $1,500 will increase for inflation after 2001. The credit is available only for the first two years of college and the student must be enrolled at least half time. A taxpayer may claim this credit for each student meeting the qualifications.

LIFETIME LEARNING TAX CREDIT

This credit applies to tuition and fees paid for undergraduate, graduate, and continuing education classes. A family may claim a tax credit of 20% for the first $5,000 in tuition and fees (less grants, scholarships, and tax-free tuition benefits). By 2003, the amount of eligible educational expenses will increase to $10,000, resulting in a maximum tax credit of $2,000. This credit is available on a tax return basis, regardless of the number of students enrolled in post-secondary course work. The tax filer may not claim both the Hope Scholarship Tax Credit and Lifetime Learning Tax Credit during the same academic year for the same student.

INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNTS (IRAs)

Education IRA - Taxpayers may invest, after taxes, up to $500 per year per child under the age of 18 into an Education IRA. Earnings accumulate tax free and no taxes will be due upon withdrawal if the money is used for higher education expenses. A tax-free distribution from an Education IRA may not be taken in a year when a taxpayer claims either the Hope Scholarship Tax Credit or Lifetime Learning Tax Credit.

Roth IRA - An after-tax savings option, a single taxpayer may contribute a maximum of $2,000 per year and joint filers may contribute up to $4,000 per year to a Roth IRA. (These maximums are reduced by amounts contributed to a deductible IRA.) Earnings accumulate tax free and contributions can continue beyond age 70-1/2. Withdrawals for educational expenses are tax free if the distributions are made at least five years after the Roth IRA was established and the taxpayer is age 59-1/2 or older.

Penalty-Free IRA Withdrawals - Taxpayers may withdraw funds from an IRA, without penalty, for their own higher education expenses or those of a spouse, child, or grandchild. Withdrawals can be used to pay for tuition, fees, books, and room and board if the student is enrolled at least half time.

STUDENT LOAN INTEREST DEDUCTION

A student or parent may take a tax deduction for interest paid during the first 60 months of repayment on student loans. The deduction is available even if the taxpayer does not itemize other deductions. The maximum deduction is $2,000 in 2000, and $2,500 thereafter. It is phased out for joint filers with an adjusted gross income between $60,000 and $75,000 and single filers with an adjusted gross income between $40,000 and $50,000.

Announcements: In August 2000, Franciscan University opened Saints Cosmas and Damian Science Hall, an $11 million state-of-the-art science facility. This 43,000 sq. ft., four-story campus addition provides extensive classroom and laboratory space for the following departments: biology; chemistry, physics, engineering science, computer science and mathematical science. It enormously enhances the University's ability to offer its growing number of students in the sciences the first-class education that they need to thrive in the highly sophisticated and increasingly complex scientific fields.

In fall 1991, Franciscan University inaugurated its campus in Gaming Austria. Each semester approximately 100 students study and live in a beautifully restored medieval monastery, nestled in the foothills of the Austrian Alps. A special four-day class schedule offers them the opportunity to encounter the historical venues of Prague, Rome, Warsaw, Berlin, Paris, Vienna, and St. Petersburg and to meet fellow students from all over Europe.
